The Confederate veterans of Caroline county have contracted for a monument to be erected at the county seat in honor of the memory of veterans of that county who lost their lives in battle. The monument is to be finished by May 25th. It is to cost $1,500, and the committee has $1,300 on hand, leaving a balance of $200 to be raised. The blade showed where it had been scraped, and it was noted, with a view of showing it had been in service; otherwise it looks new, and the police are confident that it is the weapon used by Robert Traynam when he killed his father. A microscopic examination showed slight traces of blood on blade.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

PETERSBURG, VA., March 14.—When Major Francis R. Lassiter's attention was called to a Washington special saying that he will challenge Mr. Southall to debate, Major Lassiter said: "I see no reason for a hot or spectacular campaign this summer. ALLEGED BIGAMIST SUES FOR DIVORCE

Present Wife Says She is Third Woman Whom He Has Married.

FOLLOWED TO PHILADELPHIA

Second Wife, Also Virginia Girl, Shipped Home After Few Weeks.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NEWPORT NEWS, VA., March 14.—Charged with bigamy, Eugene Hawley, of Wilmington, Del., is under arrest here, and will be held for the Wilmington authorities. Complaint against the man was made by his wife, who claims to be the third woman he has married, and who was Miss Eva Doyle, of Isle of Wight county, Va., until a little over two years ago. The woman is now staying with her father, William Doyle, at No. 205 Huntington Avenue, this city.

Hawley came to this city last Saturday and employed Attorney B. B. Semmes to sue his wife for a divorce. Mrs. Hawley employed W. J. Nelms to represent her. Yesterday a conference between the parties and their attorneys was held, and during this conference Mrs. Hawley made the charge that her husband had already been married to two women before she became his wife. Attorney Semmes promptly withdrew from the case, and the woman was advised to put the case in the hands of the police.

According to the story of Mrs. Hawley No. 1, her husband first married a woman in Philadelphia nearly twenty years ago. After living with her for several years, he left her and put their two children in an orphan asylum at Richmond, Va. About five years ago he married Miss Susie Owens, of Charlottesville, and carried his new bride to Philadelphia, and lived with her for a few weeks. Then he shipped her back to Charlottesville. The second wife gave birth to a daughter, who is now about four years old.

Several years ago Hawley came here and met Miss Doyle. He left for Philadelphia, was followed to that city by the young lady, and they were married. Soon afterwards they returned to this city and lived here about eighteen months, during which time a baby boy was born. Some months ago Hawley went to Wilmington and his family saw nothing more of him until he came to get the divorce.

The Friends of Ancient Minister Return His Losses.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) GATE CITY, VA., March 14.—Ten days ago Rev. J. A. Pendergrast, an aged minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, whose home is at Booby, in the southern part of Scott county, lost his home and all its contents by fire. His neighbors at once went to work and promptly raised a sufficient subscription to more than restore his losses.

A new dwelling is already being erected on the site of the burned building. Mr. Pendergrast made a fine record as a Confederate soldier, being a member of the famous "Stonewall Brigade," and was in some of the greatest battles of the war. He was under Pettigrew at the battle of Gettysburg, and was in the front rank in the charge up Cemetery Ridge. Though old and feeble, he did not ask for aid when misfortune came upon him, but he said to their honor, the people of this county will never let such a grand old man suffer.

It is announced the Circuit Court will be held here, beginning on the first Monday in May, by Judge H. A. W. Skeen. After that the court will be held by the new judge, Honorable W. B. Hume.

Brown's act was not discovered until a prisoner occupying a cell below heard a gurgling noise, and, jumping from his cot, found himself bespattered with blood, which had run through the floor of the cell above. Brown's cell was opened, the suicide was lifeless, with the knife clutched tightly in his hand.
